

Ezio Borchini
eborchini@law.gwu.edu

Ezio Borchini is a grievance and interest arbitrator, and adjunct law professor. He interned under Arbitrator James Harkless, and was admitted to the National Academy of Arbitrators in 2022. He serves on the Tribunal Appeals Committee. He maintains a busy arbitration practice with a focus on Federal cases and transportation matters. He has served on the panel of arbitrators for the Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority and Amalgamated Transit Union, Local 689, since 2015. He is an elected officer of the DC Chapter of the Society of Federal Labor and Employee Relations Professionals. From 2018 to 2021, he served on the National Executive Board of the Labor and Employment Relations Association. He has taught classes in Labor Relations, Trial Advocacy, and Professional Responsibility; and he has taught Ethics in Adjudication and Settlement in the LLM program in Litigation and Dispute Resolution at George Washington University Law School, since 2011.