

Angela Heverling is Senior Manager-Labor Relations at Amtrak. She serves as Carrier Board Member on Public Law Boards, Special Boards of Adjustment, and at the National Railroad Adjustment Board. Angela also develops and presents training to Amtrak managers. She presents advocacy and writing training to colleagues within the labor relations department. Prior to her time at Amtrak, Angela was an attorney at the National Mediation Board, where she investigated representation disputes and served as special counsel to Presidential Emergency Boards. She began her legal career at the Pennsylvania State Education Association, representing public school employees in labor arbitrations and administrative hearings. Angela received her J.D. from the Washington University in St. Louis School of Law.