

KATHLEEN MILLER

Kathy Miller practiced as a full-time Labor and Employment Arbitrator and Mediator for nearly 40 years. She is a fellow of the College of Labor and Employment Lawyers and has taught ADR in the Workplace as an adjunct professor at her alma mater, the University of Pittsburgh School of Law, and in the Industrial Relations graduate program of The Pennsylvania State University.

She has spoken frequently at conferences and has appeared as a guest lecturer at many universities and law schools. Kathy was inducted into the Academy in 1994 and, after holding many positions, served as President in 2017-2018. She lives outside Philadelphia with her husband, Shyam Das, who was the Academy's President in 2014-2015. She is so pleased that she and Shyam are participating in the Fireside Chat together and that they are being interviewed by their daughter NAA Member Samantha Tower.
