

Margaret R. Brogan, Esquire

Margie has been a full-time labor and employment arbitrator and mediator since 1990. She was President of the National Academy of Arbitrators in 2016-2017.

Her current permanent panel appointments include the National Women's Soccer League and the National Women's Soccer League Players' Association (sole arbitrator); Major League Baseball and the Major League Baseball Players Association; American Airlines and the APFA and APA; United Airlines and IBT; Southwest Airlines and the TWU and SWAPA; Jet Blue and ALPA; United Parcel Service and IBT (National Panel); the Fair Food Program and the Immokalee Workers; Amtrak and the FOP; Disneyland and the SPFPA; United Postal Service and the American Postal Workers Union and the National Postal Mail Handlers Union -- RI-399 National Arbitrator.

Previously, Margie was a field attorney at the National Labor Relations Board in Philadelphia. She received her J.D. from Villanova University, and her B.A. from St. Joseph's University. Margie has been an adjunct lecturer in Labor and Employment Law courses at the University of California, Berkeley, School of Law, as well as St. Joseph's University, Philadelphia, PA.

She has participated in the development of training programs for new arbitrators and advocates for the AAA, FMCS, NAA, and other organizations. She was past-President of the Philadelphia Chapter of the Labor and Employment Relations Association (formerly IRRA.) In 2016, Margie was the recipient of the Peggy Browning Award.

Margie is the current Chair of the NAA Outreach Initiative, an effort to mentor and train newer arbitrators and to increase diversity and inclusion in the arbitration profession.

