

Page A. Todd has over 20 years' experience in labor and employment law. Currently Page serves the State of Washington as a neutral adjudicator, mediator, facilitator, and trainer with the Washington Public Employment Relations Commission (PERC). She has also externed for an Administrative Law Judge at the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, and worked for the U.S. Department of Labor, the Washington Public Employee Association (representing state employees), the University of Washington (representing the UW as a Senior Labor Negotiator), and as Executive Director for the Vancouver Education Association (VEA).

Page started her own arbitration practice, NW Arbitration Services, which she does outside of her full-time PERC position. In 2023 Page completed the FMCS Becoming a Labor Arbitrator 40-hour program. Page also serves on arbitration panels in Montana and California. Page has served as leadership on the King County Bar Association Alternative Dispute Resolution Section and the NW Dispute Resolution Conference Planning Committee (currently a committee member). In her spare time, you can find Page daydreaming of an alpaca farm or at a local dog park with her pup.
