

SHYAM DAS

Shyam Das lives in the Philadelphia area. He became a full-time arbitrator in 1977. During his almost 50-year career he arbitrated for a wide range of local and national parties in the private and public sectors before his recent retirement.

He joined the National Academy of Arbitrators in 1981. He was President of the Academy in 2014-2015. He earlier served as President of the Academy's Research and Education Foundation. He was inducted as a Fellow of The College of Labor and Employment Lawyers in 2005.

He received a B.A. magna cum laude in history from Harvard University, an M.A. in social sciences from the University of Chicago and his law degree from Yale Law School. He briefly worked as an associate in a law firm in New York City before joining the faculty at the University of Pittsburgh School of Law, where he taught from 1971-1977.

Shyam is extremely proud and delighted to be sharing this Fireside Chat with his wife, NAA Past President Kathleen Miller, and to be interviewed by their daughter NAA member Samantha Tower
