

RICHARD POULSON

Richard Poulson is a partner at Willig, Williams & Davidson in Philadelphia, PA. The son of a Philadelphia firefighter, Rick has spent the last 25 years advocating for police officers, firefighters, paramedics, corrections officers, and other public-safety professionals throughout the United States. Rick is a sought-after speaker on matters facing public-safety workers and their unions in the modern workplace. He trains labor organizations, arbitrators, and attorneys nationwide on using state-of-the-art methods to protect the rights of public-safety workers, and he testifies before legislative bodies on the importance of maintaining strong collective bargaining systems for those professions. Rick received his J.D. from the Catholic University of America, Columbus School of Law in 1997.